History

Childhood

**Chandra's parents were involved in some of the most technically cold work at IDEA, but since they just had their daughter they didn't want to surround her with big words, so they chose to discuss their work around her as if it were magic. It is here that Chandra's wonderful imagination was born. Robots became giant puppets, rocket science became mystic runes, and particle accelerators became mana pools.

Shes's still to young to engage with these things but herbspsrent believe that she'll one day turn these fantasies into realities

Important past events

Meeting Dasha, because Chandra is an only child and she always wanted a sister.
